EDITORIA POLITICA / La Habana, 1985

Last March, Commander in Chief Fidel Castro, President of the Council of State and the Council of Ministers of the Republic of Cuba, granted a long interview to Prof. Jeffrey Elliot and Congressman Mervin Dymally of the United States. Many economic, political and historic matters were dealt with in depth in the course of the interview, which continued for several sessions.

As part of that talk, and in response to a question by the interviewers, President Fidel Castro stated Cuba's position regarding the present situation of the international Olympic movement and the next Olympic Games to be held in Seoul in 1988.

The complete text of that part of the interview follows.
