Formed in 1962, the Association for Humanistic Psychology is a world wide network for the development of the human sciences in ways which recognize our distinctively human qualities, and which work toward fulfilling our innate capacities as individuals and as members of society.

AHP exists to link, for support and stimulation, people who have a humanistic vision of the person, to encourage others to share this view, and to show how this vision can be realized in the life and work of all.

Membership in AHP is open to anyone who shares these values and wishes to support our efforts.

AHP offers a monthly Newsletter; a quarterly Journal of Humanistic Psychology; an annual meeting featuring both the theory and the practice of humanistic psychology; regional and international meetings; local chapters and groups around the world; current lists of colleges with humanistically oriented programs; and of growth centers; an extensive bibliography of books in the field; yearly Roster of AHP members; reprints of selected materials at low cost.

CONTENTS

In this special issue we begin an exploration of Community. Guest editor NANCY HOLDEN draws on her own vast experience of living in community, and draws out others to express their views. We begin with JACK GIBB who describes the wonder and magic of community (page 6). JACK DRACH compares Gibb's and Maslow's theories in Hierarchies and Me, page 9. MARILYN HARDER talks of a few of the implications of conscious community, the kind you'd need in space colonies, page 12; then an all too brief blurb about an exciting community, THE FARM, whose outreach is having great and good impact on the world. (We'll have more on them later.) LIZ CAMPBELL takes us on a sentimental journey to Point, Texas, and decides You Can Go Home Again (page 13). KARLA ANDERSDATTER sums it up in The Turning, page 14. MAURICE FRIEDMAN discusses Martin Buber's What is Common to All on page 15, and NANCY HOLDEN and THOMAS KEY tell us what community is all about, word by word, in a slightly irreverent glossary. TED ROSZAK is such a good writer; we've taken a bit called The Vital Reciprocity from his book Person/Planet, (page 20). FRANK RIESSMAN describes A New Politics via the Neighborhood, page 22, then Community by Association, AHP's Local Groups and Chapters in the US and Canada. DIANE JAYSON describes an AHP Community in Caucus, page 26, and JEANNE SEGAL asks if community is A Source of Protection or a Source of Empowerment. RAMONA BERINE: Some Notes on a Worm, (a feminist view) page 28. CAROL HART's Whys and Wherefores of an Extended Family, page 29. On pages 31-32 NATALIE ROGERS interviews different people on their visions of community. Some references. RICHARD REGISTER, DAVID ZELLER, then COMMUNITY AT THE ANNUAL MEETING. TOM GREENING! FINANCIAL REPORT! Rounding it out—Pro: action, page 39, local news page 40, ads for ourselves page 41, membership form, AHP publications list.
